Co-Action Publishing Chosen to Publish *Emergency Health Threats Journal

11 April 2011, Stockholm: Co-Action Publishing has been selected by the Emergency Health Threats Forum to assume ownership and publication of its journal, Emergency Health Threats Journal (EHT-J). The new journal moves to the Co-Action Publishing portfolio as of 11th of April 2011. Current content as well as all archival material can henceforth be found at www.eht-journal.net.

Commenting on the move, Senior Publisher Anne Bindslev states, "We appreciate the confidence that the Emergency Health Threats Forum has shown Co-Action Publishing in selecting us to ensure the continued publication of the Journal. We were immediately impressed with the quality of the Emergency Health Threats Journal and recognized that it fit well with our existing titles in related areas, such as Global Health Action and Infection Ecology & Epidemiology. We are especially pleased that Andrew Geoffrey Robertson, Divisional Director, Health Protection Group, Western Australia, has enthusiastically agreed to continue in his role as Editor-in-Chief and with backing from a select international editorial board, which should ensure continuity and a solid future for the Journal."
